TUESDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 22, 1937. VO

TRIAL BRIDE TELLS OF
Daughter of Holdeman-Julius Free to GIARD (Kan., Nov. 31, [Enchanted]—Together he and his wife, Josephine, live in the country home of Haldeman-Julius, where Josephine's father, a daughter, and Aubrey and Josephine's mother live. They have a son, Aubrey, who is now a student at the University of Kansas.

Josephine told, the story of her life. She said recently her love for a 20-year-old university youth who came into her life while they were school kids together in the high school here. The critical part of the story was that she married him happily together and eventually to establish a home of their own with children and all that it takes to make a home.

NOTES FOR STAGE CAREER

It seems that so essential to the success of a marriage is to enjoy each other completely and yet not have to give up school and the careers that we both want. I met Christine, I have studied dancing for years and I know I shall never be happy until I have a career. I am fortunate. I have met I should be miserable if I had to wait that long to marry! Ah! In this way we can each go on with our careers and yet have a marriage, for when I go to New York, Paul will be ready for his law course there and we will go together. I am sure that when we are in school, have affairs, and they would be lots better off and more capable of putting their minds on their studies than if they had no affairs on the side line as much as

THEY ARE ALL HERE

"I am always wondering whether he may fall for some other girl who would be willing to go a lot further than I have," said one of our friends, "but we really believe that even if we will both be content."

WILL KEEP OWN NAME:

"Aub and I want to go tramping around country this summer, and during our time away from the things we would rather do with each other than with anyone else. We will be as conspicuous as we had been before in any form of the word. No secrecy and no assuming of our work." Our friend's words were our rule.

plan to keep my own name, Josephine Haidemann-Julius, while I am in school, studying for the theater. I really don't want to leave my keeping house as I want after awhile to go to the U.S. I shall possibly use Audrey's name, Bessie. Both Aunt and I realize that we are only doing what lots of young people do these days. I love her early and get married. The difference is that most people are not so sure of themselves. I decide down just because one is married. Our fathers and mothers want us to be really happy and develop our talents. I am going to be an actress, Audrey, who will be a sophomore at the University of Kansas next semester, at beside Josephine and I will be a sophomore at the University of Kansas. My main reason for leaving communitarian marriage is the fact that place his relationship on an honest and wholesome basis," he said. "I am convinced that very few healthy young men remain asexual throughout their entire college life."

FIND HAPPY SOLUTION

"It took me a long time to win my freedom. I have been hoping ever since we started to school together. Almost four years ago that some time I would be able to marry her."

Overcoming these obstacles, students, teachers, parents, and the community are working together to help students and all citizens.

NEW DECISIONS CLEAR TAX LAW

Supreme Court Interprets Numerous Questions
Levying on Indian Oil-Land Lease Incomes Upheld
Other Disputed Features Ruled on by Judges

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—Tax laws were clarified materially by the Supreme Court today in its interpretation of numerous questions which have arisen to plague both the taxpayer and the Tax Collector.
In one case, involving taxes on incomes derived by lessees of Indian oil lands, the government established its right to retain approximately $50,000,000 in revenue.
In another proceeding, the government lost in its contention that under the Revenue Act of 1924 it could tax gifts made prior to enactment of the law.
In a third, the Board of Tax Appeals and the Federal courts were held to have jurisdiction to review settlements made by the Commission of Internal Revenue under the 1924 Revenue Act. The government had contended in this case that if such a power was recognized it would open the door to claims involving more than $100,000,000 which already had been collected.

TAXING LEASE INCOMES
While States have not been granted by Congress the right to tax income derived from leases on Indian oil lands, the power of the United States to tax such income is undoubted; Justice Stone declared in deciding two cases brought by the government against the executor of Glenn T. Braden, who won in the Federal Court in Pennsylvania in his effort to collect taxes paid on income from leases on Ogea Indian lands in Oklahoma.
"It seems to us extravagant, in the face of the comprehensive language of the statute," the court declared, "to infer Congress did not intend to exercise that power merely because in the absence of Congress' action, it is one withheld from the States."

The government had collected vast amounts from such taxes, the court stated, and it was reasonable to assume that Congress would have amended the law had it not approved of that construction.

GIFT-TAX CASE RULING
The court found great difficulty in disposing of the gift-tax case. So far as that, the 1924 act undertakes to impose a tax on gifts made in the calendar year 1924 before its enactment, four of the members, Chief Justice Taft and Justices Van Devanter, McReynolds and Brandeis, dissenting, the act must be held arbitrary and invalid. Four other members, Justices Holmes, Brandeis, Sutherland and Stone, dissenting, the constitutionality of the gift-tax provision, but insisted the law should be read as referring only to transactions taking place after its passage. All eight, Justice Sutherland being absent, agreed John W. Blodgett, who, in a Michigan case, was compelled to pay taxes on gifts he had made in January, 1924, could not be required to pay them under a law passed in June of that year.

TWO OTHER TAX RULINGS
Settlements made by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue under Sections 327 and 328 of the Revenue Act of 1924 are subject to review by the Board of Tax Appeals and the courts, Justice Stone declared in a case appealed by the government, involving taxes levied on the Oesterlin Machine Company of Cincinnati. The government was not denied the right, however, of testing out before the board and the courts whether certain phases of the case were open to review.

The Supreme Court in another case held that under the Revenue Act of 1917 dividends are taxable as income for the year when earned. The question was raised in a case brought from the northern district of Ohio by F. H. Mason and will affect the settlement of a large number of cases.

NEW YORK FAILS TO OBTAIN REVIEW

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—The New York State Tax Commission failed today to obtain a Supreme Court review to test the validity of the New Hampshire or flat-rate plan of levying the transfer of estates left by nonresidents. The plan also is in effect in Virginia, Connecticut, Kentucky and California and was held unconstitutional in the lower courts.
The New Hampshire plan, adopted by New York and the state named, imposes a flat rate, claimed to be proportionate to the progressive rates imposed upon the estates of residents. Mary J. Smith of Connecticut, leaving real estate in New York valued for taxing purposes more than $25,000. The New York State Tax commission announced it would appeal it at the flat rate of 2 per cent. The law was challenged as invalid and was declared unconstitutional by the New York Court of Appeals.

TAX VICTORY WON BY INSURANCE COMPANY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—In imposing license fees upon insurance companies for permission to do business within their borders, States were prohibited by the Supreme Court today from using their gross incomes as a measure of the fee when a part of the income was received as interest from Liberty Bonds or other tax-exempt United States securities. The decision was handed down in two cases from Wisconsin, brought by the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company.

RULING BACKS COMMERCE COMMISSION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—The Supreme Court today ruled that orders of the Interstate Commerce Commission based on rates on through traffic which traverses both Canada and the United States may be enforced through damage suits against American railroads failing to file schedules required by law.
The News Syndicate Company of Chicago paid the New York Central and other railroads joint through rates on newspaper from Toronto, Ont., to New York City, and the Interstate Commerce Commission held the rates unjust and unreasonable, ordering a refund of $290, which the railroads refused to pay.
In the Federal District Court at Chicago the order was set aside on the ground that it applied to rates on the Canadian railroads over which the commission has no jurisdiction.

From 15 to 25 per cent of cases of heart disease are believed due to rheumatic fever contracted in childhood.

MINERS ASK ACTION BY PRESIDENT

Strike Intervention Plea Met by Promise to Refer Matter to Davis

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—President Coolidge was asked today by a delegation of union leaders to intervene in the bituminous coal strike in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio, but he left with them the advice that he sees little desirability in calling a conference between miners and operators unless some good might come from it.
To the request of the delegation, which was headed by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, for a Congressional investigation of "an asserted conspiracy of large railroads to depress the price of coal," Mr. Coolidge advised the workers' representatives they could expect justice and co-operation if they filed their complaint with the Interstate Commerce Commission.
The delegation had no sooner left the White House than it was stated on the President's behalf that he had made no commitment regarding the matter to a conference to adjust the strike situation, but merely had promised to refer the request to Secretary Davis of the Labor Department for investigation.
There seemed to Mr. Coolidge little to be gained, it was said, by the calling of a conference unless the parties to the controversy were willing to go into it with the desire for a reconciliation and the impression was left that the White House that the President saw little likelihood of an invitation to confer being issued.

The mine workers' representatives were informed by President Coolidge that he had made several efforts to have Congress give him the authority to call a conference with the miners and mine workers themselves had contributed to defeat these.

ROW BREAKS UP CABINET OF BELGIUM

Socialists and Opposition Unable to Reconcile Views on Military Service

BRUSSELS, Nov. 21. (AP)—The Jap-par Cabinet, which took office May 20, 1936, resigned today, after a meeting which revealed the impossibility of reconciling the conflicting views of the Socialist and non-Socialist ministers on the period of military service.
The Socialist attitude was finally decided at a morning caucus of the Socialist ministers with the Socialist Senator, M. De Broqueville. This was to adhere to the demand for a reduction of military service from ten months to six months. The Cabinet assembled in the afternoon and the Minister of Defense, Count De Broqueville, after a full day's discussion, announced that it would be impossible to introduce a bill for the reduction of the period of service that would meet the approval of all the ministers. He therefore proposed that the whole military question be submitted to a mixed commission of deputies and higher officers.
The ministerial council found that it was unable to agree to this suggestion and decided on resignation. It is believed the ministry will be reconstructed, the four Socialist ministers being replaced by two Christian-Democrats, one Catholic and one Liberal.

Navy Official Gives Hint in Statement on Cruiser Example Set by Britain

LONDON, Nov. 21. (AP)—Commenting on the recently announced British decision not to construct two cruisers already authorized on this year's program, a high official of the Japanese Navy said today in a Reuters dispatch from Tokyo as saying that Japan "is not yet in a position to state its opinion, however, the British decision is likely to have a favorable reaction in the United States."
The dispatch states that it may be inferred from this that Japan is waiting to see what effect the British decision will have on the United States before taking any steps to alter her present plans.
The Japanese vernacular newspapers give much prominence to the patches telling of the British decision, but no editorial comment has appeared thus far.

San Francisco Plans Subways

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21. (Exclusive)—Superior M. P. Kent suggested to the Board of Supervisors today that pedestrian subways be constructed under Market street to relieve traffic congestion.
Market street is a diagonal artery, which pierces the city from the Ferry Building and is the inlet and outlet for transit traffic and bears four lines of street-car tracks.
Kent's suggestion met with such instant favor that it was made into a resolution and passed to the effect that the City Engineer shall investigate feasibility and report the probable cost of subways crossing beneath the street at four points.

SCORES OF CHILDREN CARED FOR BY WIDOW

ATLANTA (Ga.) Nov. 21. (AP)—Eighty-five children of needy parents have been cared for and trained in the past three years by Mrs. J. J. Ansley, widow of a Methodist minister, who now seeks to enlarge the scope of the work to which she says she feels divinely called. Of her own resources Mrs. Ansley founded the cottage where she carries on her work. Sixteen children now are under her care, which she says is intended to provide a place where fathers and mothers unable to care for their children may have them trained in home-like surroundings without relinquishing control of them.

ALASKAN RUM ACT HELD VOID

Supreme Court Rules National Dry Law Comes First

Proof of Sale Required by Federal Measure

Reviews Refused in Several Coast Liquor Cases

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—The search-warrant section of the Alaska dry law was declared by the Supreme Court today to have been repealed by the National Prohibition Act.
Under the Alaska dry act search warrants for private residences could lawfully be issued upon proof that intoxicating liquor was kept on the premises. Under the National Prohibition Act no residence can be lawfully searched except upon proof of sale.

ACT SUPERSEDED

The lower Federal courts held in a case against Ole Berkenst that the National Prohibition Act superseded all local laws.
Joseph E. Marron, convicted of violating the Federal prohibition law in connection with the sale of intoxicating liquors in San Francisco, lost an appeal in the Supreme Court to set aside his conviction on the ground of illegal search and seizure. Marron challenged the right of the government to use a ledger and other papers seized during a search of the premises. He also objected to the admission of the evidence of a witness who declared he had furnished him liquor from rum ships in the harbor.

REVIEWS DENIED

The court also refused to review three cases from Seattle, Wash., in which Roy Olmstead, Charles S. Green, Edward H. McInnis and others were convicted of violating the Federal prohibition law and which challenged the right of the government to use evidence obtained by tapping telephone wires.
Joe Parente and Armando Moscori, convicted with several other men of having conspired to violate the Tariff Act and prohibition law by importation of liquor at San Francisco and along the California coast, were denied a review by the court.

Stage Players Arrested Again

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21. (AP)—Seven members of the cast of "The Married Virgin" company appeared in Police Court here today to answer charges of violating an ordinance prohibiting the presentation of immoral plays.
A previous charge against the same company will be heard in another Police Court tomorrow before a jury. The judge announced that he may ask the jury to view a matinee performance of the play as part of the evidence.

Clear Skies Forecast for Holiday Tilt

Favorable weather will prevail in Los Angeles for the Thanksgiving Day football games, according to a forecast of "generally fair and possibly warm" received yesterday by Jack Seaton, publicity manager of the event, from Father Jerome Ricard, noted weather prophet of Santa Clara University.

The University of Hawaii and Occidental and the Los Angeles and Hollywood high schools.

But the first thought of each when the money began coming in was to lighten the burden of his own people.

Callahan is a rough-and-tumble style of fighter, who used to have a good percentage as a street fighter when he was selling newspapers.

The preliminaries lose their usual luster on this card due to the sentiment attached to the feud between Callahan and Fields.

Benny Chavez and Billy Burke box the semi-wind-up. Jimmy Laventhol and Eddie Gull meet in the special.

The two fours are Jimmy Lucas and Johnny Cruz, and George Fleming vs. Bill Toomey.

Fields and Callahan still weigh in this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Their contracts call for 141 pounds or over. Neither is likely to miss this mark much.

Callahan leaves shortly after this match to defend his title in Madison Square Garden against Hilario Martinez, the Cuban.

Completely routing his opponent in the early stages of the exhibition last week, Sauer finished in front to mark up his twenty-eighth straight victory at Jake Mathes' emporium.

The battle was vicious and closely contested. The judges were unable to agree on the winner. In the seventh round Latzo opened a cut over Rosenbloom's eye.

TROJAN ELEVEN LEAVES TONIGHT

Don Williams in Hospital as Gridders Depart

Injured Back Keeps Star Out for Rest of Year

Thirty-three Players Named for Long Jaunt

The fractures, Sunday evening a member of the Trojan coaching staff told this writer that Williams was apparently O. K., but subsequent developments proved that he wasn't.

Williams was either kicked or kneed high up on the back, according to official diagnosis.

When taken from the game Saturday he walked from the field unaided, it being thought at that time that his left ankle, which has ached him considerably since last season, was bothering him.

An injury received in the Santa Clara game early in October kept Don out of the Oregon State and Stanford games, which proved to be the longest hiatus of the season.

Coach Howard Jones took the loss of Williams without bursting into tears, but it's no secret that Don's absence will not help the Trojans' chances against the Irish. It was he who punched his way seventy-two yards to Southern California's second touchdown last year.

Meeting with Capt. Morley Drury at quarterback and sometimes performing right alongside of the Trojan skipper, Williams has been the life of the party ever since he got back into shape for the California game.

DRURY FACES TASK

As things now stand Capt. Drury faces the strenuous task of playing the entire game against Notre Dame. And it is lucky for Southern California's chances that the job falls on such capable shoulders as those attached to Drury's torso.

Morley played all but four or five minutes of the Stanford game and was going just as strong at the end of the game as at the start. One of Stanford's touchdowns was scored near the close of the second half when Drury was of the field.

With Williams rendered hors de combat Drury's understudies are Howard Elliott and Rocky Kemp. If Morley does have to leave the field because of injuries it will not be at all surprising to see Jones shore up ahead of Elliott. The little fellow has been going like a house afire of late and Jones is very much impressed with his ability.

Kemp's 40-yard gallop to a touchdown against Washington State was a thing of much power and beauty. He is adept at returning punts and is smart on defense. The only thing against him is his lack of weight.

Jones spent yesterday afternoon drilling his charges on defense against Notre Dame play. The Spartans lined up with Jeff Cravath, Manuel Laraneta, Bob Lee and Jonas in the backfield. The first three named were members of the Trojan varsity last year and consequently know considerable about Irish formations.

Harry Edelson appeared at his old fullback berth last night and will start against the Irish unless injured between now and game time. The Jewish boy is a good defensive player, quick to cover passes and a hard hitter in backing up the line.

His offensive power, both as a ball carrier and interference unit, has never been questioned.

TO RUSH PASSER

The Trojan linemen are being crunched to rush the passer as much as they can, Jones figuring that if Army could break up Notre Dame's aerial attack in this manner his boys can do likewise. Certainly this proved true against California and Washington State.

Today's workout is billed for 1 o'clock, with practice again consisting of defense against Rockne's pet formations.

Thirty-three players, Coaches Jones, Bill Hunter, Cliff Herd, Gordon Campbell and Jeff Cravath will accompany the team. Leo Calland is staying at home to get started with his basketballers and drill the Spartans in Washington plays which will be employed against the Trojans when they return one week from today.

The players who will make the try are Frank Anthony, Nathan Barragar, Eugene Beatie, Herschel Bonham, Charles Boren, Leslie Coyne, Larry Dibel, Morley Drury, Harry Edelson, Howard Elliott, Clark Galloway, Robert Gowder, Bert Heiser, Jesse Hibbe, John Fox, Cecil Hoff, Carl Kreiger, Milton McCabe, Lowry McCallin, Jim Moser, Don Moser, John Porter, Russ Saunders, Al S-having, Tony Steponovich, Francis Tappan, Lloyd Thomas, Max Thomas, George Tompkins, John Ward, Rocky Kemp, Alvin Schantz and Howard Bell.

matic court scenes of the year. It began late, the judge being delayed, but once under way it slid with speed. It was marked by shouts, threats, taunts, tears and tirades. Several times physical conflict was narrowly averted.

The trial had been put over to today from the middle of last week, after jury selection and opening statements had been completed, on the statement of Arthur Driscoll, chief counsel for Dempsey, that he was suffering from the grip. The adjournment was made over objection of Kearns.

SLATTERY AND LOMSKI MAY MEET IN TITLE GO

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (AP)—Prospects of a light-heavyweight title bout between Jimmy Slattery, recognized champion of the National Boxing Association, and Leo Lomski of Aberdeen, Wash., in Madison Square Garden on December 12 developed today.

Matchmaker Jess McMahon told Lomski, who already is signed to meet Tommy Loughran, the titleholder of the Pennsylvania and New York authorities in the Garden on January 8, is agreeable to the Slattery match. McMahon said he expected to have a definite reply today from Slattery on the proposed bout.

COVINA AND POMONA MEET IN PLAY-OFF PREP BATTLE

BY BOB RAY

Coach "Chief" Newman's Covina Colts, Southern California prep football champions for the past two years, will meet what is expected to be their toughest competition in their quest for a "third term."

When last clash with Archie Nisbet's Pomona Cardinals in a first-round play-off game T h a n k s - giving Day on the Pomona gridiron.

If the Colts can get over the Cardinals, who are the undefeated champs of the Citrus Belt League, they will be almost counted "in" with another Southern California crown, but there seems to be plenty of reason for doubt as to whether Covina will win the Turkey Day struggle.

Season No. 1 is that the Pomona eleven holds one verdict over Covina this season, the Cardinals having taken a 5-10-5 decision over the Colts in a practice game played before the league season began for the two eleven. That ought to make the psychology in favor of the Cardinals and they will have another edge in the fact that the important clash is in the contrary notwithstanding, and in a game like this where the two teams are so evenly matched any kind of an edge might make a lot of difference.

Aside from losing that practice game to Pomona, Covina dropped another clash last Saturday to the strong Sherman Indian eleven. However, those Sherman Indians are much too tough for the average high school outfit and it is generally believed that Newman wanted his Colts defeated so that they would not be hindered by any overconfidence when they faced Pomona this week. It might also be mentioned that Nisbet brought his Pomona team over to Covina last Saturday to watch the Colts perform against the Indians and incidentally get a line on Covina's style of play.

Anyhow, the whole San Gabriel Valley is all pepped up over the coming Covina-Pomona clash and it's a safe bet that the Cardinals will see a howling "crazy crowd of fans when the kick-off rolls around."

GRIFITHS CAPTURES BEVERLY GOLF TITLE

R. M. Griffith won the golf championship of the Beverly Hills Country Club yesterday which was staged on links of the Westwood Public Golf Course with the low score of 64.

S. T. Boyer and Frank Burman tied for second with 65. The booty prize was taken home by Bill Gage with the score of 68.

Before each game the coach of the particular sport will appoint a field leader for that game. At the end of the season, lettermen in the sport will elect some one of their number as honorary captain for the season which was just concluded.

ED DUDLEY SETS NEW RECORD FOR WILSHIRE GOLF COURSE

Ed Dudley, Hollywood Country Club's paid-to-play star, set a new course record at the Wilshire Country Club yesterday in the pro-am event with a 65. For the course which has recently been named as the site of the 1984 U.S. Open, 10,000 open to 71. Harry Pressler, San Gabriel pro, and Dick Linares of Long Beach were next in line yesterday with 69 cards. Willie Hunter of Brentwood, and Charlie Gueset, former Lakeside star, toured the layout in 70. Two sweepstakes of 18 holes apiece which remain in the Herbert Lubin $500 event will be staged on the north course at Wilshire next Monday.

national or national Olympic tryouts, which in the cases of track and field, swimming, wrestling and gymnastics will be combined with the 1928 national championships.

The convention also approved 125 record performances, which included thirty-one in track and field and ninety-four in swimming, and fifty-three in wrestling and gymnastics.

The final track and field tryouts at Boston will be preceded by ten national preliminaries to be held on or before June 23 in the following locations: New York City, Dallas, Detroit, Cincinnati, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland, Or., Lawrence, Kan., or Iowa City, Atlanta or Birmingham and Denver. In addition, such college championships as the I.C.A.A.A. in the East will be recognized as sectional trials qualifying for the final.

The expected return of the National Collegiate Athletic Association to the Olympic fold will accord similar recognition to its 1928 championships, usually held in Chicago.

The choice of Lawson Robertson to become head track and field coach, already decided by the executive committee, is expected to be ratified by the convention tomorrow and passed on to the Olympic committee in the form of a recommendation. Since the Olympic organization is controlled by the A.A.U., however, the action here has the effect of being final.

Robertson's corps of assistants will be selected from among nominees, including: Walter Christie, California; Dean Cromwell, Southern California; Robert L. (Dick) Templeton, Stanford; Henry Schulte, Nebraska; George Bresnahan, Iowa; Eddie Farrell, Michigan; Harry Hillman, Dartmouth; Johnny Magee, Bowdoin; Eddie Farrell, Harvard; Tom Keane, Syracuse; Ke Butler, Detroit; Harry Gill, Illinois; Harry Sullivan, Holy Cross; George Littlefield, Wisconsin; Bill Kennedy, East Fort Chester, Ct., as marathon trainer; William Hayward, Oregon; Mike Ryan, Colby, and Frank Kanaly, Maine.

HUBBARD DEPRIVED OF WORLD RECORD

CINCINNATI, Nov. 21. (AP)—Rejection of Murray Hubbard of New York for a fourth term as president of the Amateur Athletic Union was announced late tonight by unanimous agreement on his nomination by a caucus of delegates. Hubbard will be accorded this signal honor to convene at the closing session of the convention.

The caucus also agreed on Daniel J. Ferris of New York to succeed Fred W. Rubien of New York as secretary-treasurer. Mr. Rubien resigned after holding office for thirteen years.

Because the take-off for his leap was an inch higher than last year's, De Hart Hubbard, famous negro athlete, is deprived of a new world's record jump.

Hubbard, a resident of Cincinnati, jumped 26 ft. 2 1/4 in. in a meet here last September 17, but the Amateur Athletic Union today rejected the record.

Michigan star already holds the world's mark of 25 ft. 10 7/8 in. Faulty timing, at the same time, was the cause for rejection of a world's record—equaling performance by Hubbard of 9 3/4 for the 100-yard dash.

The A.A.U. turned thumbs down on an attempt to revive consideration of the 100-yard performance of Jackson Scholz of the New York A.A., who was credited with covering the 100 in 9.5 at Greensboro, N.C., in 1925. The record was rejected by the 1925 convention and again today because of insufficient and unsatisfactory timing evidence.

Charley Paddock holds an American record of 9 3/4 for the century, but the official world's record is still 9 3/4, because tenth-second timing is not internationally recognized. This disapproval of the second timepiece was responsible to the for the tabling of applications for relay records.

The relay records, which were 800 yards, made by Southern California's team last May.

Babin Carr of Yale and Dubuque, Iowa, is now the official world's all-around pole-vault record as a result of the A.A.U.'s approval of his indoor mark of 13 ft. 9 1/4 in. made last February in New York City.

LION GRIDDRERS LEAVE FOR ST. IGNATIUS TILT

Bill Hess and twenty-nine Lion Gridders will leave for San Francisco tonight at 6:45, where they will play St. Ignatius on Thanksgiving Day.

The party will stop at San Jose on tomorrow night and pull into San Francisco at 10 o'clock the following morning.

With the exception of Eckenroth, regular end, the Lion roster is unimpaired. Eckenroth received a fractured ankle during the Compa game and at present it is still weak.

It is doubtful whether Eckenroth will play against the Gray Fog. Mannion, who turned in a stellar performance against Regis, will most likely take over one of the wing positions.

It was also thought last week that Von Der Ahe would be unable to participate in Thursday's game due to a wrenched foot he sustained in the Regis fracas, but by all indications, he will be able to play.

Thursday's game will count a great deal in Loyola's chances for securing a berth in the Far Western Conference next season. St. Ignatius is a member of that conference and was tied for second place. The Gray Fog defeated California Aggies, tied Fresno State and lost to St. Mary's after outplaying the Gaels for most of the game.

St. Ignatius is coached by Jimmy Needles, former Santa Clara star. Capt. "Scout" Carruthers of St. Ignatius is rated as one of the best pivots men on the Coast. Capt. Carruthers will be pitted against Capt. "Shovel" Sherwood of Loyola, who is no slouch himself. Sherwood weighs in at 155, but makes up in fight what he lacks in weight.

Horgan, who played with Los Angeles High last year will appear at quarter for the Schuykill River, July 6 and 7, next year, and that the winning crew will sail for Holland on July 11.

First Part of Report Dealing With Traffic Complete

GENEVA, Nov. 21. (AP)—The League of Nations officials today indignantly repudiated as ridiculous reports published in England which, in their opinion, might lead to the impression some woman member of the League's commission for the suppression of the white-slave traffic had gone to the extent of posing as the proprietress of houses of ill-fame in order to get first-hand information for the League. The reports are said to mention a certain Sister Paulina Luisa as having left an Italian convent to spy out white-slave secrets in questionable houses in Mediterranean cities. The officials explain that two eminent women, who are devoting their activities to the protection of women, are members of the committee which is in session at Geneva—Princess Cristina Bandini of Italy, who formerly was connected with an Italian convent, and Dr. Paulina Luisa of the University of Montevideo, who are known both in Europe and Latin America. Princess Cristina, who has been highly praised both by King Victor Emmanuel and Premier Mussolini for her achievement in advancing the interests of Italian women, has been conferring with the Italian author-

SISTER OF EX-KAISER MARRIED TO REFUGEE IN RELIGIOUS RITE

BONN (Germany) Nov. 21. (AP)—The proud former Kaiser of Germany today acquired a brother-in-law who has been a sailor and professional dancer.

The deposed ruler's 61-year-old sister, Princess Victoria Schumburg-Lippe, was united here in a religious ceremony to Alexander Subkoff, 27-year-old Russian refugee, whom she married in a civil ceremony Saturday.

The Princess became plain Frau Subkoff amid all the pomp and splendor customary in a Greek orthodox wedding. Shortly before the hour fixed for the ceremony about forty carefully selected guests assembled in the magnificent Red Salon of Victoria's Palace, the corners of which were decorated with huge bunches of white chrysanthemums. In the center of the room stood an improvised altar bearing carved gold and silver ritual vessels flanked on each side by tall candles in silver sconces.

The ceremony was a religious rite, which, at the request of the various governments, never has been given to the press. It supplies details of houses of ill-fame.

The first part, dealing with the ramifications of the white-slave traffic, already has been printed. Maj. Bagnett Johnson of New York has taken a leading part in arranging the white-slave data. The committee expects to report to the December Council, but is observing strict secrecy as to daily proceedings.

Dr. Paulina Luisa jokingly referred to the London report at today's session of the committee, but did not ask that any action be taken, saying that the matter is of no importance.

The bride wore a historical veil which first was used by the Empress Frederick and is one of the most valuable heirlooms of the German royal house.

After receiving the congratulations of the guests, the couple repaired to an adjoining hall where covers were laid for twelve for a wedding dinner.

The couple plan to leave the Tyrol within a week or two for a honeymoon trip, after which they intend to settle in Berlin.

Refusal of the Lutheran synod to perform the ceremony is attributed to the influence of the former Kaiser, who opposed the marriage. Princess Victoria resorted to the Greek Orthodox Church of her husband in the emergency.

Subkoff's mother, widow of a once wealthy Russian textile manufacturer, whose fortune was confiscated by the Bolsheviks, was among the wedding guests. She has lived in her native Sweden since the Bolshevik revolution and came here for the event.

DANCE HALL ATTACKED BY CLUB WOMEN BURNS

CHICO, Nov. 21. (AP)—The Sierra Gardens Dance Hall near Paradise, which last week came under fire of the Paradise Women's Improvement Club in charges of misconduct filed with the Butte County Board of Supervisors, was destroyed by fire of mysterious origin last night. The pavilion was constructed at a cost of $10,000. Following a hearing of the charges brought against the proprietors of the hall by the Paradise women, the Board of Supervisors ordered the case dropped on grounds of insufficient evidence.

Former Crown Prince Carol Awaiting Call

Paris Hothed of Intrigue for His Return

VIENNA (Austria) Nov. 21. (AP)—Meeting in secret session, the executive committee of the National Peasants' party in Rumania has adopted a resolution looking toward the overthrow of the Bratianu government, says a dispatch from Bucharest. The resolution states that the committee will use all lawful parliamentary and extra-parliamentary means to save the country, but if the government persists in illegal and arbitrary methods, the executive committee will be called upon to organize bourgeois resistance.

FORMER CROWN PRINCE AWAITS DEVELOPMENTS

ST. MALO (France) Nov. 21. (AP)—Living the retired life of a French country gentleman, former Crown Prince Carol of Rumania, who now is plain Mr. Carol Caraiman, is awaiting developments in the popular sentiment which may call him either to the throne or regency at Bucharest, within a few months.

Carol appears to have aged ten years in the past ten weeks. Although he spends his time hunting and fishing in the woods, and rivers of Normandy, he seems to realize the responsibility that has devolved on him through the trial of Mihail Manoilescu, on a charge of supporting Carol's pretensions to the throne, and the defeat of Carol's arch-enemy, Premier Bratianu, in the court-martial's acquittal.

WILL GO IF SENT FOR

"I will never make any attempt against my country, but if the nation calls me I will respond," Carol is quoted as having replied to Rumanian emissaries who begged him to move upon the Rumanian frontier with the assurance that the army, peasants and all of the younger elements of Rumania will support him. Paris is a hothed of intrigues and plotting to return Carol to Rumania. Most of the intrigues are youthful politicians exiled from Rumania by the Bratianu rule, largely they are Transylvanians who resent what they term Carol's apathy in remaining in retirement instead of squarely placing himself at their head and making a strong bid for the throne now occupied by his son.

DEULINES STATEMENT

"St. Malo is no place for the Rumanian pretender," many of them have told the Associated Press. "It gives the impression he is getting ready to skip off to England or America instead of traveling east." Carol absolutely refused to speak to newspaper men. An Associated Press correspondent was introduced to him today by a life-long friend, and urged the advisability of his making a statement. "Not at this time," was the reply of Mr. Caraiman.

ARMS HAUL VALUE PUT AT $200,000

Mannerstam, at Liberty on Bond, Gives Figure and Tells Recovery Plans

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21. (Exclusive)—The value of the arms and ammunition seized last week in the East Bay home of John Mannerstam, head of the Pacific Arms Corporation, is placed at $200,000 today by Mannerstam, and this constitutes the first definite figure. Mannerstam is at liberty on bail pending trial on an Alameda county warrant charging illegal possession of machine guns, while Federal authorities continue an investigation to determine if the accused man is involved in international gun-running plots to aid Mexican and Central American revolutionists.

Mannerstam also says that the formal papers are in process of preparation by which he will demand the return of all seized articles. In revealing the value which he placed upon the article seized, Mannerstam charges that the raiders took "everything but the furniture" when they entered his home.

One of the letters seized in his home tells of a visit to Los Angeles armed because of the "unscrupulous gang" there. Mannerstam admits he made that trip and was armed but denies knowing the identity of any gangsters in the southern city. He says he had been warned by a San Francisco friend that Los Angeles gangsters "were out to get him."

Toast to Death Drunk in Poison

PORTLAND (Or.) Nov. 21. (AP)—Quaffing a poison potion with a toast to "future happiness in the beyond," George Oatund and Mrs. Marion Johnson each swallowed a glass of poison spray last night at her home. Mrs. Johnson died and Oatund is in a hospital fighting for his life. He told of the affair when he recovered consciousness.

He said they were on their seventh pint of moonshine when Mrs. Johnson, who talked frequently of ending her life, suggested death. "All right! Let's go," Oatund said he told her. She produced a small bottle of the spray and they divided equally, drinking to their death. He said he came here recently from California.

Drvs Obiect to More Rum Curb

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—The prohibition bureau has decided it does not need additional legislation covering medicinal liquor making. "We do not see any need for such legislation now," Commissioner Doran said today. "Withdrawals of liquor from warehouses have decreased and at the present rate of demand there is sufficient whiskey on hand for legitimate purposes to last at least five years."

HOOVER STOCK GOING UP FAST
Bay City Republican Leader Gives View After Tour
Ray Benjamin Finds People in Favor of Secretary
Smith Declared to be Chief Democratic Aspirant

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21. (Exclusive)—If the popular demand throughout the country can be translated into delegates to the 1928 Republican National Convention, Herbert Hoover will be the nominee of the party for President.
Ray Benjamin, Republican chief and western states regional director for the G.O.P. during the 1920 campaign, thus came up with the situation after a trip east, including a stay at Washington and conferences with Republican party heads from various sections of the nation.
"Hoover has won the confidence of the people of the United States by reason of his great accomplishments here," Benjamin declared in explaining his strength.
THREE IN LEAD
As Benjamin views the situation in party ranks at present, the three candidates in the front rank for the Presidential nomination are Ray Benjamin, Charles Evans Hughes, and former Gov. Lowden of Illinois. The second phalanx of Presidential possibilities includes the favorite sons and Vice-President Daves. Among this group are Senator Willis and Speaker Longworth of Ohio, and Senator Curtis of Kansas.
The final struggle for the nomination appears to rest with the Hoover and Daves candidacy, in Benjamin's opinion.
"Daves is making a clever campaign by having himself put forward as the second choice in states where favorite sons or designations pledged to other candidates are being considered," Benjamin observed.
There is a wide divergence of opinion among the Republican leaders as to whether President Coolidge would permit himself to be nominated again even if a deadlock should occur in the next Republican convention and a general stampede should send the delegates into a demand for Coolidge.
DRAFT DOUBTFUL
Benjamin inclines to the belief along with a large number of eastern leaders that Coolidge would not consent even to the "draft."
The Hoover people are Coolidge people so there appears no tendency of any difference of opinion between the President's supporters and those of the Secretary of Commerce.
In California Benjamin sees nothing but a united front on the part of the Republicans with Hoover as the choice of the delegation from this state.
During his stay in Washington, Benjamin found a growing sentiment to locate the next Republican convention in what might be termed "a neutral state" one which will have no favorite son as a candidate. Detroit is the most talked of city in this class and the one which will give San Francisco the hardest fight for the convention from present indications.
Gov. Smith is head and shoulders in the lead of all other contenders for the Democratic Presidential nomination, Benjamin declared. He noticed a decided trend toward Smith even among the Democratic leaders in the South.

RAY CITY DOUBLES CONVENTION INDUCEMENT
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21. (Exclusive)—The Board of Supervisors today pledged $50,000, or twice its original offer, to the Republican National Convention fund if this city is granted the meeting.
At the same time, Mayor Rolph named Supervisor Shannon as the city's official delegate to attend the Republican National Committee meeting in Washington next month. It is at that meeting that the committee will recommend the location of the convention. Supervisor Shannon will offer San Francisco to the deliberators.

FIGHT OPENS IN EAST ON CIGARETTES
Activities of Crusaders in Chicago Learned When City-wide Canvass Starts

CHICAGO, Nov. 21. — Chicago housewives are being asked to join a campaign for the passage of a national anticigarette law, it was learned today. Workers for the National Anticigarette Club, with headquarters here, have been making a house-to-house canvass and have obtained nearly 1000 names on petitions calling for the enactment of laws prohibiting the manufacture and sale of cigarettes.
Charles P. Johnson, president of the club, said he is hopeful of passing an anticigarette law within five years. His club, he said, is concentrating on Illinois at present, but within a year will have workers in every large city of the United States.
Mr. Johnson would not reveal the names of the donors who made establishment of the club possible, but said there are several well-known philanthropists who helped to pass the prohibition act who are now interested in stamping out the cigarette.
The club plans to establish lobbies at Washington and at the various state capitols. Mr. Johnson declared.

MORROW'S WAYS WIN MEXICANS
Envoy Charms Capital, Ambassador Telles Says; Era of Amity Starts

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—The personal popularity achieved by Ambassador Morrow promises to reconcile the anti-American element in Mexico, in the belief of Ambassador Telles, who said today the new American envoy already had created a spirit of amity long needed in Mexican-American relations.
Ambassador Telles, who recently returned from a visit in Mexico City during the time of the arrival of Morrow, said that in addition to his personal charm, which has won all Mexicans, the new Ambassador had abandoned his own idea of tactics in dealing with Mexican officials. He never sends notes, but talks personally with officials and, Ambassador Telles declared, usually is successful in achieving an understanding on disputed questions.
The Mexican envoy expressed belief that the recent rulings of the Mexican courts refusing to sanction the withholding of drilling licenses from foreign oil companies is indicative of an eventual clearing up of the petroleum controversy.

KLAN SUITS THROWN OUT BY COURT
Federal Judge Refuses to Entertain Quarrels of Pennsylvania Order

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 21. (AP)—Counter actions of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and five banished members against each other both were thrown out of Federal Court today. United States District Judge Thomson dismissed the suit of the Klan against five Western Pennsylvanians seeking to have them enjoined from interfering with the affairs of the organization and asking $180,000 damages from each of them.
The court likewise denied the application of the banished members for an injunction to bar the Klan from Pennsylvania and the appointment of a receiver over its properties in this state.
The action by the Klan was filed against Rev. John P. Strayer, Charles S. Hunter, Charles Oyer, William C. Davis and Van A. Barrickman. The damages were sought upon the assertion that they collected funds of the organization after their dismissal.

Board Will Get Report of Committee Today

Compromise on Operation Clause Predicted
Commissioner Smith Urges Short-Term Contract

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—A Shipping Board subcommittee has completed its study of a proposal to sell three Pacific lines and will submit the proposal tomorrow to the board.
Individual members of the committee today indicated that the controversy within the board over the clause requiring a guarantee of operation will be compromised and the ships will be advertised under two contracts, one requiring operation for five years, as at present, and the other stipulating ten years. After bids have been received the board will accept that most favorable, whether it be under a five or ten-year contract.
Another plan, submitted by Commissioner Smith, proposing that the lines be sold under a short-term operation contract, with a small down payment and a stipulation that if the new owners cannot maintain the line, the ships will be turned back to the board and the deferred payments written off, has received favorable consideration.

GODIVA EQUINE'S SPINE TO SHINE
Tail Light Decried for Steed of Beauteous Damsel on Parade in Dark at Chicago Rehearsal When the Illumination Chairman Won't Turn Switch

CHICAGO, Nov. 21. (Exclusive)—"O-o-o-h, I'm cold," came a quivering feminine voice through the darkness as a synthetic horse clattered through a rehearsal of Lady Godiva, in preparation for the Arts Ball.
"Lights!" commanded A. N. Robert, chairman of the pageant committee. "No lights," said a quiet voice at his left.
"Oh, oh, oh, I'm cold," came the quivering voice.
"Whaddya ya mean, no lights?" demanded Mr. Robert.
"Lady Godiva rode at night, didn't she?" responded Ralph Mondt, chairman of the lights committee.
"No, that was Paul Revere," said Mr. Robert, rather uncertainly.
"Of course Lady Godiva rode at night," continued the pitiless Mr. Mondt, "and this pageant is going to run true to history. Nobody saw Lady Godiva. If we permit lights somebody may see our Godiva. Therefore, when the Godiva act goes on here, the lights go out."
"May I put on my clothes?" came the quivering voice. "I'm so-o-o cold."
"If we don't have any lights," persisted Mr. Robert, "how will they know she is riding through?"
"Very well," conceded Chairman Mondt, "we will permit one light."
"Fine," began Mr. Robert.
"It will be a tail light," said Mr. Mondt. "A tail light on the horse. Then the spectators can tell the horse and Lady Godiva are passing through."
"I give up," said Mr. Robert.
"I'm so-o-o cold," said Lady Godiva from the darkness as the rehearsal ended in a distinct flop.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 21. (Exclusive)—Final Congressional approval was given the proposal to extend the term of Mexico's President from four to six years when the Chamber of Deputies unanimously voted for it. The proposal, in the form of a Constitutional amendment, now will go before the State Legislatures, two-thirds of which must ratify it before it becomes effective.
It will not apply to President Calles, but to his successor, with Gen. Obregon the sole candidate at present.
The amendment also bars election for successive terms of any provisional President or acting executive not regularly elected.

BAR ULTRA-REDSCommunist Party Expels 400

Political OutcastsSuicide of Joffe Causes New Soviet Turmoil

(Copyright, 1934, by Chicago Tribune.)
MOSCOW, Nov. 21. (Exclusive)—The expulsion of the ultra-red Left Reds from the ranks of the Communist party will continue until the party is freed of all dissenting elements, according to the Moscow newspaper Pravda, the official mouthpiece of Communist Joseph Stalin, whose dictatorship over Russia grows stronger daily.

Since the denunciation of Leon Trotsky and the expulsion of Gregory Zinoviev as president of the third international six months ago more than 3000 major and minor officials of the soviet government have lost their red cards of membership in the Communist party, and in the last week another 400 followers of Trotsky were expelled from local party groups at Moscow, Kharkov and Leningrad.

These political outcasts, according to the soviet press, face "liquidation" unless they cease plotting against the present government. The word liquidation in Bolshevik terminology means execution or banishment to Siberia.

The suicide of Commissar Adolph Joffe over the expulsion of his close friends, Trotsky and Zinoviev, instead of patching up a peace between the warring factions of Moscow, only makes the situation more strained.

According to dispatches reaching here, former Commissars Trotsky, Zinoviev, Kamenov and Rakovsky all made bitter speeches at Commissar Joffe's grave, denouncing M. Stalin's present policies.

While rumors of riots between the Stalin and Trotsky followers are confirmed, diplomatic circles in close touch with Moscow still scout re-

THAW BREAKS GLASSWARE OVER
$300 CHECK AT EVELYN'S CLUB

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (Exclusive)—Harry K. Thaw, filed once more with the joy of life grew suddenly indignant early today as he sat at a table in the Chez Evelyn Club in West Fifty-second street, pounded with great violence on the table and with a sudden gesture of his arm swept all the glassware from it to the floor. One of the girl entertainers who had clustered about him was cut on the arm.

Nothing happened thereafter, save that Thaw was taken away, returned, and finally paid the check, against which he protested. His body guard, Morgan Pendleton, had thoughtlessly left him unattended some time previously.

The Chez Evelyn is run by Evelyn Nesbit, once Thaw's wife. Reporters who consulted with her afterward were assured that she had no intention of causing the arrest of the famous experimentalist.

"Just what for?" she inquired, reasonably enough. "That's nothing for Harry."

Harry, with Pendleton, entered the club about 2 o'clock this morning and sat down calmly, as is his wont, at one of the tables. Immediately the girls gathered around him and accepted cigarettes. All went smoothly. Then Pendleton went out. After a time he was given a check for about $300. It contained no marital discount.

Thaw grew swiftly enraged. He pounded on the table. He grew red and indignant. He pushed all the glassware off to the floor. A fragment of it cut one of the girls. Thaw quieted down somewhat and disappeared. Then he came back again, stayed a little longer and finally paid the check.

Private Radio
Rights UpheldAmerican Concerns Rejoice
at Parley DecisionsGovernment Refuses to Join in European StandAbsolute Freedom Given to Wireless Companies

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—Representatives of private concerns attending the International Radio Conference in session here since October 4, hail the result of this parley as a vindication of the principle of no government interference in the management of commercial businesses.

This principle, they say, has been defended intact and has been given international recognition in the face of determined pressure from foreign countries where government control of communications is an accepted custom. American tactics during the conference, Americans say, have resulted in a complete victory in what was realized before the Congress would be the chief difference between American and European policy. American radio concerns assert that they are concerned solely with the development of the art and in the efficient operation of their facilities.

STAND MADE PLAIN

Members of the American delegation, among whom are Senators Watson of Indiana and Smith of South Carolina, and Representative White of Maine, say further that Congress would refuse to ratify any international convention whereby it would devolve upon the government to fix rates, impose the use of given devices and otherwise enter into the management of the concern.

Most European delegates on the other hand, in view of the fact that in their countries radio communications either are government owned or controlled, oppose to the conference favoring minute regulation in the terms of the convention itself of all radio communication activities.

The American delegation, speaking for the largest single radio nation in the world, from the very first made it unmistakably clear that the United States would have to be counted out if any agreement whereby the individuality or private initiative of any independent radio concern would be cramped or controlled by any government.

PROPOSAL ACCEPTED

The American proposal that the wireless regulations to accompany the convention be divided into two groups, the first of which would be subscribed to by the United States, while the second containing governmental managerial dispositions, would not, was agreed to by all other countries.

The determined stand, representatives of independent concerns say, had the double effect that it not only awakened many European countries to the idea of freedom from governmental interference in the prosecution of legitimate business more easily carried out by private, but it dampened impulsive European efforts to include in the regulations even more articles inacceptable to the United States than now is the case.

The separation of the regulations into those acceptable and inacceptable to the United States already has been done, but the latter, contrary to expectations when the conference opened, are comparatively few and deal mostly with the charging and computing of rates for radiograms and the obligatory free routing of telegrams through certain channels which the United States cannot impose on private concerns.

EYES OF NATION WATCHING FORD

Fortunes Hinge on Outcome of Latest Venture

World of Business Upset by New Car Decision

Effect of Announcement Felt in Many Quarters

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN
WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (Exclusive)—During the past six months a great many people in the United States have been worrying about Henry Ford. Their number includes everybody engaged directly or indirectly in the automobile-manufacturing business, salesmen and sales agents of all kinds of automobiles, advertising agents and publishers of all manner of advertising mediums, owners of the well-known silver about to become obsolete, bankers, insurance men and men who toll with their hands.

All are worrying over the question, "Can Ford come back?" Some are afraid he cannot; some are afraid he can and will. All are hopeful, one way or the other. The question will be answered in the developments of the next twelve months and fortunes will be made or lost on the guesses that are being made as to the answer.

Economists and business experts are agreed that never in the history of the world has so much depended upon the success or failure of one man as at this time when Henry Ford is bringing in his new automobile.

The Ford announcement of plans to stop the manufacture of the car of which he has sold some 18,000,000 or 18,000,000 copies and produce and market an entirely new car is responsible for an upset in the business world that statisticians will be evaluating for years to come.

MAN OF MANY MARVELS
Ford has been a man of so many marvels that the sheer audacity of his latest undertaking has not been generally appreciated. He has been the greatest individual success in the automobile world. He has sold more cars of a given type than all other types added together. He has built up an enormous fortune—perhaps the greatest in quick assets the world ever has known.

He gave this nation and other nations cheap automotive transportation. He established new wage standards, paying a minimum wage for common labor that never had even been contemplated by any other employer or in any other industry. He gave employment to the physically deficient and handicapped who never were given a chance in other manufacturing establishments. He introduced manufacturing methods of the most revolutionary character. He branched out from the industry in which he had made a signal success. He bought a railroad and within a short time was paying his railroad workers more than they ever had been paid before and was ready to reduce freight and passenger rates. He bought a coal mine and his methods were demonstrated to be equally effective in that industry. He undertook to build airplanes and his success was not far off. In fact, Ford's only failures were when he took risks in international affairs and in politics.

And then Ford decides that he will give the world a new automobile. This means scrapping a large part of the machinery in his various plants. It means paralyzing or disrupting his sales organizations. It means cutting off all income while his expenditures are multiplied many times. It means waging an assured, successful business against a new idea that might not prove to be so good.

But this departure does not affect Mr. Ford and the Ford connections alone. It is far reaching, since the day of the announcement of the Ford plans to bring out a new car the entire automotive industry has slowed down. Manufacturers are marking time until they learn just what Ford is doing. Buyers of cars of the Ford class are waiting for the appearance of the new Ford before they buy a car.

Producers of parts and accessories are holding their operations down to the minimum. Advertising appropriations are curtailed. Thousands of workers are nonproductive for a time and that affects business in many lines.

Even the stock market has been affected, although neither stocks nor bonds of Ford enterprises are listed or quoted on the exchanges. The effect is upon the securities of other automotive enterprises.

COST OF DECISION
Frumous and varied estimates have been made as to what it has cost Ford to scrap his "Model T" and put a new automobile on the market. They run as high as $350,000,000. Such estimates, however, usually include the item of the profits Ford would have earned had he continued operations in the old business, and that, of course, does not represent an outlay on his part, even though he may have sacrificed profits of from $50,000,000 to $75,000,000.

It also is said by persons well informed that Ford has not had to scrap all his old machinery with new. None the less he is credited with an expenditure of at least $50,000,000 on account of new machinery. In addition to that he has had for six months or more a payroll of considerable proportions that has been preclusive in the sense that the workers were turning out something that was being sold.

Then there is the further factor of disintegration of sales organization. No one, not even Mr. Ford himself, ever will know what the cost has been.

When the question is asked, can Ford come back, there is no suggestion that Ford ever has failed in his business undertakings. Whatever the answer proves to be it is certain that there never has been such an extraordinary experiment in the industry of this or any other country.

INVENTION LAID TO LAZINESS

Journalist Says Motivating Force Not Necessarily But Labor Dodging

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (AP)—Inventions that for years have tugged at the skirts of Mother Necessity got a new mama today. One is laziness and the nomination was made by Dr. Leon Whipple of New York University school of journalism.

In a lecture today he declared all men are lazy by preference and that the achievement of laziness has always been the force that motivated the inventive spirit.

He traced the origin of pulleys, wheels, screws, archimedian levers and "silver" gears to the desire of man to overcome inertia, defeat gravity and obtain laziness.

Giles Plans for Hop-off Today

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21. (AP)—Capt. Frederick A. Giles, British aviator, tomorrow morning will make another attempt to fly to the Hawaiian Islands, he announced late today at Mills Field, San Francisco municipal airport.

If the runway at the airport is sufficiently dry and weather conditions seem favorable, the aviator expects to hop off some time between 9 and 9:30 o'clock, he said.

Favorable atmospheric conditions for the next two days are forecast today by the Weather Bureau here.

NEW GERMAN ENVOY LEAVES ROME POST

ROME, Nov. 21. (AP)—King Victor Emmanuel received Dr. Friedrich Wilhelm Von Fritzsche-Grafen, recently appointed German Ambassador to the United States, in a final audience at the Quirinal Palace this morning.

The King expressed his regret that so able a diplomat was leaving Rome and congratulated him on his Washington appointment.

NEW SULTAN GETS ALL WET

RABAT (Morocco) Nov. 21. (AP)—Torrential rains, accepted in Morocco as a token of good luck since the sun shines here 300 days a year—greeted the new Sultan, Sidi Mohammed Ben Mulai Yusef, today as he entered Rabat, seat of the French residency, and capital of his Sultanate.

The youthful Sultan, only 17 years of age, drove from Fez in an American-made automobile, alighted from the car just outside the city gates and mounted a white Arabian steed.

The heavy rain that poured down in sheets transformed the red Fez and white burbanse of the boy Sultan into clinging skin-fitting garments as Resident-General M. Theodore Bleg, who accompanied the procession, smiled uneasily in his cut-away coat and top hat.

The Grand Vizier, El Mokri, a white-haired veteran who attended the inaugurations of the boy's father and grandfather, held the stirrup for the young Sultan when he mounted his spirited white mare.

The ceremony of holding the stirrups is the final genuine demonstration that a new Sultan has come to Morocco.

Few French troops were in evidence, except a few high officials.

Parisian Retaken on Dope Charge

ST. ALBANS (Vt.) Nov. 21. (AP)—Oscar E. Mouvet, Paris Hotel proprietor, has been rearrested by Federal narcotic agents charged with selling one pound of genuine Persian gum opium in New York.

Mouvet was discharged by United States Commissioner Watson here last week after an analysis of 750 pounds of asserted opium sold by him to narcotic agents posing as buyers had shown the product to be a compound without opium. Then he was arrested by immigration officials and held for deportation, bail being set at $500.

California's forests have produced far greater wealth than her famous mines.

Bank Hold-ups in Two States

ADA (Okla.) Nov. 21. (AP)—Two unmasked men today robbed the First State Bank of Stonehill of $8000 and escaped in an automobile.

VAN BUREN (Ark.) Nov. 21. (AP)—Three men today robbed the First National Bank of Van Buren of $3000 and escaped.

TREASURY REFUSES TO BAN FOREIGN RAYON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—The Treasury today dismissed an application for an antidumping order against German and Italian rayon a silk-like cloth. Assistant Secretary Lowman said the department has decided that there is no surplus stock of rayon yarn in the United States and that the difference in price between domestic and Italian and German rayon is too slight to affect the American trade.

GERMAN NAMED IN RUBLES CASE

Munich Engineer Accused as Forgery Agent

Assigned to Circulate Counterfeit Notes

Georgian Legation Denies Plot Responsibility

BERLIN, Nov. 21. (AP)—A Munich engineer named Bell has been implicated by police investigating the forgery of millions of Russian chevron notes, but Bell had fled across the border when the forgery was discovered. Police said today Bell apparently had been commissioned to put the forged notes in circulation in the Balkans and especially in Sofia and Constantinople as part of the alleged gigantic plot to upset the Russian financial structure by making its paper money worthless. The engineer is said to have been a trusted agent of the Caucasian Liberation party which seeks to free Georgia from soviet Russia.

One Sada Thiers Schwil, who was arrested in Frankfurt last week with several others when a ton of the counterfeit notes was discovered, has been found to have lived several years in Munich where he was secretary of a Russian Prince. Police are endeavoring to find his Munich acquaintances in the hope they may be able to give valuable information as to his activities.

It appears two groups of Bavarian extremists were in touch with the Caucasian Liberation party whose moderator declined to have any part in the forgeries or other illegal activities. Police also have found trails leading to Breslau where Privy Councilor Dr. Rakette was implicated. Dr. Rakette lived until recently in Frankfurt where the counterfeit notes were discovered. He was arrested and his home searched. He asserted he did not know that certain materials found in his home had been used for forgery purposes, so was brought to Berlin.

The Georgian Legation here issued a statement declaring "the rightful Georgian government, whose president, Noe Jordania, is living in exile in Paris, has had nothing whatever to do with the chevron forgeries and has maintained no relations with the forgers."

The German Foreign Office and the British Embassy are reported to favor energetic probing of the scandal.

PADDLEFORD TRIAL OPENS AT SALINAS

Ex-Wife of Three Wealthy Men Accused of Defrauding Carmel Shopkeeper

SALINAS, Nov. 21. (AP)—Mrs. Genevieve M. Paddelford, alias Mrs. Grace M. Foster, said to be the former wife of three wealthy men, among them Dr. G. E. Paddelford of Los Angeles, faced a jury in the Superior Court here today on a charge of defrauding a shopkeeper of Carmel. Mrs. Lois Dibrill, of goods valued at $600.

Admitted into evidence today was testimony of a counter-transaction wherein Mrs. Paddelford sold to Mrs. Dibrill a fur coat valued at from $400 to $450. Mrs. Dibrill testified that Mrs. Paddelford informed her the coat was the property of a friend. Deputy Sheriff L. V. Manning testified that when he arrested Mrs. Paddelford she offered him $50 if he would take several suit cases containing the articles purchased from the shopkeeper back to her. Manning said he refused.

NEW BRIDE OF "PRINCE" GETS SHOCK

Jugo-Slavia Says Dorothy Cochrane's Husband Not a Royal Blood

PARIS, Nov. 21. (Exclusive)—A bombshell was thrown into the marital joy of "Prince" Nicholas Karageorgievich and Dorothy Cruikshank Cochrane, the Brooklyn writer and poetess, who were married in the civil ceremony last week, by the announcement from the Jugo-Slav government that no prince of that name exists.

Belgrade categorically denies that Nicholas is a member of the Jugo-Slav royal family or a cousin of King Alexander, as he says, explaining that no other branch of the Karageorgievich exists except the royal house.

The marriage of the couple, according to the orthodox rites, is scheduled for the Russian church tomorrow. They will sail on the Aquitania, Saturday.

Vermont Makes Appeal for Aid

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (AP)—Gov. Weeks of Vermont makes a further appeal for aid in a message received today by Frank P. Ufford, chairman of the food-relief committee of the Vermont Society of New York.

"The condition is serious in the whole State," the Governor said, "but the parts most seriously affected are the Winooski, White River and Lamoille valleys and adjacent to the Connecticut River. The loss is tremendous in the localities affected. Anything that can be done by people interested in Vermont will be greatly appreciated."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—Estimates in the hands of Secretary Hoover place the New England food damage at between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000.

Prohibition for Part of Ceylon

COLOMBO (Ceylon) Nov. 21. (Exclusive)—The Legislative Council has adopted a resolution for immediate prohibition in the northern provinces and has ordered the Colonial Secretary to introduce a scheme for enforcement before January 1, next.

"GOLDFISH" OFF ARMY MENU

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—The Army is being fed fresh fish, fowl, vegetables, fruit and milk, instead of the canned varieties of these foods, under the 44 per cent increase in ration cost approved by President Coolidge. Maj.-Gen. Frank B. Chestnut, quartermaster-general, says in his annual report just made public. "With this ration allowance it will not be necessary to augment subsistence funds by dividends received from post exchanges, and the funds thus released can be used for other purposes to improve the comfort and contentment of the enlisted men," he says.

Before the order increasing the ration became effective, it cost $4.8 cents per day per man to feed the Army in the 1927 fiscal year, Gen. Chestnut said, a reduction of 1.55 cents compared to the previous twelve months. The new ration is based on an approximate cost of 50 cents a day, and was worked up after study of the ration costs of the Navy and Marine Corps.

MUSSOLINI JAILS TWO FOR PLOTS

Deputy and General Held on Charges of Giving Aid to Enemies of Fascism

ROME, Nov. 21. (AP)—Two outstanding opponents of the Fascist regime, Deputy Ponzio San Sebastiano and Gen. Roberto Bendivenga, have been arrested at Turin, charged with having aided anti-Fascist "subversives" to leave the country in order to plot against Fascism. The semi-official Stefani News Bureau says the authorities have confirmed grave charges concerning the activity of San Sebastiano against the Fascist regime, which include the supplying of means for certain elements opposed to Fascism going abroad to carry out their plans. The Turin police assert the deputy confessed to his responsibility, and that he explained he was inspired by hatred of the present administration.

He therefore was denounced to the judges for infringement of the penal code. Gen. Bendivenga, it is reported, has been sent into "forced exile" for his activity against the regime. His name, it is charged, was found frequently in compromising letters and documents in the possession of San Sebastiano.

Bendivenga was one of Gen. Cadorna's aides during the war and became a deputy when peace was concluded. San Sebastiano distinguished himself during the war, being decorated with the Italian gold medal. He began his political career as an ardent Fascist, but joined the dissident group three years ago.

Denial Sighted in Snyder Case

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (AP)—A copyrighted story in the New York American will say tomorrow that a decision will be entered with the clerk of the Court of Appeals at Albany immediately, denying the appeal of Henry Judd Gray and Ruth Brown Snyder, sentenced to die for the killing of the woman's husband.

The American says the decision is a sweeping rejection of every ground of appeal by the couple.

BURGLAR PUT IN JAIL BY WOULD-BE VICTIM

REDDING, Nov. 21.—C. H. Beale of Castle Rock returned to his home early today to find a burglar at work. The intruder hid in a clothes closet and Beale routed him out and at the point of a pistol forced him to walk to Dunsmuir, two and a half miles, where he turned him over to the police.

SOUTH PACIFIC OUTLAW JAILED

Solomon Island Natives Rounded Up

Leader Accused of Killing Commissioner

British Ship Sent to Aid Capture Withdrawn

SUVA (Fiji) Nov. 21. (AP)—The British High Commissioner for the Western Pacific has been advised by wireless from the Solomon Islands that Tribesman Basians and forty-four other natives said to have acted with him in the recent uprising that resulted in the killing of several officials, including whites, had been rounded up and lodged in the Tulagi Jail. The advice received here says that the British cruiser Adelaide, which was sent to the Solomons from Australia to assist local police in pursuing the natives, has been withdrawn as the vessel is no longer needed.

The patrol met with opposition when it reached Basiana's village. In the skirmish two natives were shot but one escaped. The alertness of a sentry possibly saved members of the government patrol. The sentry saw the band of natives creeping in the dark upon the village where the patrol was encamped. His challenge was ignored. Then he fired, wounding two, one escaping.

It is believed all the outlaws soon will be apprehended. Basians is charged with killing District Commissioner Bell, one of several officers killed in the uprising at Sina-rango. The first report of the outbreak was received here October 6.

One of the term Australasia is objected to by New Zealanders on the grounds that New Zealand is neither a part of Asia nor Australia, but is a self-governing dominion.

LINCOLN
STILL HIGHER STANDARDS OF EXCELLENCE
Made to appeal to the most discriminating market in the world, the Lincoln has been developed to meet the very highest standards of performance—a great engineering organization has left nothing undone to make it as fine as a car possibly can be.
Lincoln prestige for performance is literally world-wide—yet its progress towards still greater performance has set new standards of excellence.
Recent refinements in cylinder head design and a slight increase in engine size have added 15% to already remarkable power. A refinement in fly-wheel design has made a still smoother running motor. Detail chassis changes and smaller wheels have lowered the center of gravity to give still better road control and still greater safety at the highest speeds. Deeper flanged fenders emphasize the noticeably lower lines.
The dash instruments are now grouped on a damasked Monel metal panel and centered on the instrument board. Ignition and light control are mounted on the steering column. A tubular lock protects both steering and ignition control. These detail changes add to beauty and convenience—they also indicate the painstaking care which presides even over the little things in Lincoln craftsmanship.
Only the individuality of custom body building could give the luxury and richness of Lincoln body interiors. Only the artistry of world famous body builders could suggest new color combinations so daringly original—yet pleasing to the most discriminating in deference to the market for which Lincoln cars are intended.
The restraint of good taste in non-essentials; the distinctive colors, artistically correct; the richness of studied simplicity in every detail—these are Lincoln characteristics, which are so expressive of genuinely fine quality.
These recent Lincoln refinements are but steps in the perfection of this supremely fine motor car.

Mr. Daniel T. Crowley, President of Crowley, Milner & Company, summarizes information regarding the Company in a table dated November 19, 1927, as follows:

HISTORY AND BUSINESS: Crowley, Milner & Company operates one of the largest department stores in the City of Detroit. The present Company was incorporated in Michigan in 1914 and its steady growth has been accomplished entirely by the reinvestment of earnings. The present business comprises about 50 major departments with a force of about 3,000 employees, many of whom have been in the service of the Company since its incorporation. Apart from its large cash business, the Company has over 30,000 charge customers with active accounts.

STORE BUILDINGS: The Company at present occupies two buildings located at Gratiot Avenue and Liberty Street, one block east of Woodward Avenue, in the retail business district of Detroit. One building is an eight-story structure covering an entire city block and the other is a twelve-story building covering one-half block, the two being connected by a bridge and tunnel. The buildings have an aggregate floor space of 1,027,000 square feet, of which 750,000 square feet are at present devoted to selling purposes. The warehouses have an additional floor space of 277,000 square feet. The buildings are fully equipped with elevators, conveyors and sprinkler system. The Company also controls favorable leases on adjoining property sufficient to take care of any future growth.

EARNINGS: The Company has shown a substantial profit in every year since its incorporation in 1914. Total sales have increased from $4,926,680 in 1915 to $33,152,643 for the fiscal year ended January 21, 1927. Net sales and net profit for the four years ended January 21, 1927, after eliminating a non-recurring charge of $199,157.85 in the fiscal year ended January 21, 1927, for moving expense, as certified by Messrs. Ernst & Ernst, are as follows:

Year Ended January	Net Sales	Net Profit after Deductions	Balance After Deducting Interest on New Debentures, Preferred Dividends and Federal Taxes at Present Rates	Equivalent per Share on Common Stock to be Outstanding
1924	$23,292,080.00	$2,248,219.36	$1,695,909.25	$4.95
1925	25,330,463.23	2,562,229.94	1,967,528.40	5.74
1926	27,047,169.52	2,006,642.52	1,486,945.28	4.34
1927	28,152,643.01	1,985,706.49	1,468,835.61	4.29

The present facilities of the store are sufficient to handle $35,000,000 to $40,000,000 annual business.

FINANCIAL CONDITION: Attention is called to the strong financial condition of the Company. The consolidated balance sheet as of July 22, 1927, prepared by Messrs. Ernst & Ernst, after giving effect to the recapitalization of the Company and the sale of new Debentures, shows total current assets of $6,517,869.77 against total current liabilities of $856,880.34, a ratio of over 7 1/2 to 1.

MANAGEMENT: The Company will continue under the direct management of Messrs. Daniel T. Crowley and J. B. Jones, who have been actively connected with the Company since 1914. This constitutes the first public offering of the Company's Common Stock, and is the result of the sale of part of the holdings of stockholders.

DIVIDENDS: The directors will inaugurate dividends on the Common Stock early in 1928, at the annual rate of $2.00 per share.

The statements contained above are obtained from sources which are believed reliable, but in no event are such statements to be regarded as representations by us.

Legal Proceedings are subject to the approval of Messrs. Crowley, Milner & Company, and Messrs. Miller, Canfield, Faddock & Stone, Detroit. Audits by Messrs. Ernst & Ernst, Detroit.

We offer this stock "when, as and if issued and received by us" subject to all conditions, and subject to the approval of Messrs. Crowley, Milner & Company, and Messrs. Miller, Canfield, Faddock & Stone, Detroit.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (AP)—The curb market turned reactionary in the closing hours today after an early advance which carried several miscellaneous stocks into new high ground. Advances of 1 to 2 points in a number of instances were converted into losses.

That recent accumulation of some of the high-priced stocks was materially reduced the floating supply was evidenced by sharp advances scored by Great Lakes Dredge and Dock, which shot up nearly 20 points to a new high, Sanitary Grocery and Proctor & Gamble. Amoskeag jumped 13 points to 103 1/2, the first time this year it has sold above 100.

Aluminum shares were bought heavily in the oil group. Vacuum fell back for a net loss of 1-1/2 after an advance of as much, and Humble retreated following an early gain. Ohio Oil closed above its previous high, but about a point under the day's peak. Most of the utilities were heavy from the outset, although Penn-Ohio Edison sold above 108 for the first time. Midwest Utilities, American Power and Light and Electric Power reflected active profit-taking.

Miscellaneous issues which reached new high ground before reacting included Atlas Plywood, Trucon Steel, Pansteel Products, Deere & Co. Bancor and the new common and preferred issues of United Biscuit, Niles Bennett Pond, Ohio Brass, Fender Grocery "A" and "B," American Rolling Mills, Imperial Tobacco and Tubine Silks were among the numerous soft spots.

Passing mentioned the stock price is falling when news is at the top, and both rise and fall when news is at the bottom.

High above the wooded hills of Pasadena, where many of her happy hours of her married life had been spent in carefree years, Mrs. Grace Elliott yesterday laid to rest the ashes of her husband's body. The request for her husband's body was made by the actress, who ended his life
last night, by turning on the gas in a little hotel room in Pasadena. Mrs. Elliott had been asked to make a request of her husband's body, but it was his wife, whom he had been divorced,
who had asked it.

DEATH FOILS PLAN
The divorce was but a misadventure, for the actress had been married in seven years of marriage, which were unable to survive. Mrs. Elliott explained, "But each other always and had planned to remarry as soon as
Mr. Elliott had been divorced."

WIFE'S ASHES
Mrs. Elliott had last seen her husband, Mr. Elliott, when he was in the city at once and they were married.

Foundation Concern Gives

American Plan Prevails in Spite of Chicagery

The Foundation Company of America yesterday relinquished its connection with the $4,000,000 plant built here by the Goodrich Rubber Company for which it was acting as construction agent. The Goodrich company will complete the work under its own management. The result of the two was entirely amicable,
it was learned, relinquishment
virtually being forced by union threats against the Foundation company.

COYOTE SAVED FROM MOB IRE

Police Men Save Animal That Has Been Cornered and Then Capture It

Answering a hurry call that a thief had been cornered by an angry mob at 2208 Court street yesterday afternoon, Detective Rathbun, Doane and Atkins discovered the marauder was a coyote and a very disgruntled coyote, too. Pistols were of no avail and neither of the officers dared to venture close enough to the beast to swing a mace at him.

The Lancer

By Harry Carr

There are two ways to live—for those who can't type-write well enough to write books.

THE NEW FREEDOM
As there is, after all, considerable risk to appearing across the ocean; the best way is to get the girls together, pose with one elbow
on the grand piano and tell them about the "new freedom."

SELF-EXPRESSION
The idea is that it is necessary for the benefit of our souls
that we throw off all inhibitions
—take off our combs hand-selves — "self-expression" — leave the masses and the kids to shift for themselves... go down to the South Seas and tell coconuts with the gals in grass skirts.

WELL, THAT'S DIFFERENT
There are some fine distinctions to this stuff that I can't get.
In the middle of one of these discussions about the "new freedom," the case of a gentleman who had just left his wife flat on her ear came up, and they panned him to a crisp.

DISCIPLINED SOULS
If you ask me, I don't think so much of "freedom of expression."
The shades of my New England ancestors whisper to me that it isn't a damn bit of difference
what you like and what you desire. The thing to do is to keep a firm fist on the handle of the wheel. But, of course, I ain't educated and can't grasp these differences.

IMPRESSIONS OF LOS ANGELES
Much language has been spilled from time to time by people trying to give their impressions of Los Angeles. Most of these impressions have been poor stuff.

GAS STATIONS
Two things I expected from him just didn't happen to his son-
the architecture of Los Angeles and the gasoline stations.

EX-SERVICE MEN
To my mind the gas stations represent the highest art of automob-ility. They have been planned by big business executives and they

ACTORS' UNION NEAR FINALE
Curtain All But Dropping as Leaders in Hollywood
Movement Hint Defeat of Aims at Hand

Influence of the Actors' Equity Association, the actors' union, on the Hollywood motion-picture colony, which flared into temporary importance during the excitement of a threatened wholesale wage cut last summer, wanted to a position of insignificance within two months and now appears doomed to oblivion by the proposed standard contract for all players.

WEDNESDAY MORNING.
JACOBSON CASE RECORD CLOSED
Charge Against Mrs. Grimes
Taken Off Calendar
Balance Held Insufficient
for Conviction
Last Chapter Written to Beagle-street Raid
In an official court records are announced, the celebrated Jacobson case becomes a closed chapter yesterday when Chief Trial Deputy City
Prosecutor Eberhard appeared before Municipal Judge Blake and was granted a motion to take off the charge against Mrs. Grimes, last, with Jacobson in a vice raid.
Following a last-minute conference with City Prosecutor Lickley, Chief Deputy Eberhard entered the court for dismissal, declaring he did not believe there is sufficient evidence to convict Mrs. Grimes on the charge of being a disreputable person.
A jury in Jacobson's case had previously disagreed.
MRS. GRIMES NOT PRESENT
Mrs. Grimes was not in court at the time of her scheduled trial, but her attorney, Vincent C. Hickson, was present to make the motion for dismissal. The prosecution failed to appear. Defense counsel previously announced that it would waive its trial and have the case transferred before Judge George Bullock.
The procedure in the case of Mrs.
Grimes was similar to that of Jacobson, as City Prosecutor Lickley declared that the charge be dismissed since a jury was unable to reach a verdict as to Jacobson's guilt
in the first trial.
CRIMINALS GRANTED
A continuance in Mrs.
Grimes' case was granted October 1, last when her attorneys appeared before Judge Blake and declared that she was "too ill to stand such an ordeal" at that time.
Mrs. Grimes and Jacobson were arrested in her bedroom in the apartment house last August.
Prosecutors charged he had been "used" by the underworld, and at the time she was lured to Jacobson under the guise of discussions in the district with him.
SUSPENDED SENTENCE FOR BANKS
Cinema Comedian Also Placed on Probation for
Two-Year Period
Following before Municipal Judge yesterday following his arrest Friday on a charge of driving his automobile after the revocation of his operator's license, Harry Banks, cinema comedian, received a thirty-day suspended sentence and was placed on probation for two years.
In imposing the sentence Judge Blake declared he did not believe Banks should be treated as others of "baggage" offenders of the law, such as those convicted of driving and driving under the influence of intoxicants, because he was brought out in the tentative that the actor has driven his car for years.
The comedian's license was revoked by the State on June 15, last,
as he had been convicted three times for speeding.
In questioning of Chief Trial
Deputy City Prosecutor Eberhard,
he admitted driving his limousine
on the morning of September 15, last. He explained that his license and valet, Paul Russo, was in the wheel when incident occurred the night before in which he began to trouble him.
Banks, who gave his address as 1011 Orange Drive, was represented by Attorney Eugene E.
Harris. His real name, it was stated at the trial, is Mario Bianchi.
STORY OF STABBING MODIFIED
W. B. McLane Says Wife's
Death Due to Accident;
Tells of Blasted Romance
At a blasted romance was told by William B. McLane, 40 years of age, Chickasaw Indian,
who by the murder of his wife,
was sentenced by Capt. Bean and members of the homicide squad standing at Central Police Station.
McLane, however, his statement was not taken shortly after the murder Sunday at 901 Palm avenue, in which he is said by himself to have confessed that he had killed the woman intentionally in a quarrel over some legal papers.
McLane said he learned that his wife was in his home was attentive and when he questioned
him the man she admitted
she had been with him for some time. At this, the Indian said he told her he would willingly give her up, if the other man gave her up. Mrs. McLane filed charges and the husband was arrested with papers last Friday.
ASSOCIATION STATES

 Of all the motor morons

SAVING THE YOUNG
 By the time the League of Nations takes over the problem of world flying, there will be a rule forbidding children under 14 from embarking in trans-oceanic flights.

A-THE CROSSING
 A motorist, crossing a railroad track does so at his own risk, so the United States Supreme Court has ruled. And the sage chunk of wisdom is added that he can't expect trains to stop for him.

HOW, INDEED?
 How those redoubtable and well-meaning campaigners against illiteracy in this country realize what they are doing? Supposing that they succeed in their efforts, how will it then be possible to get juries?

A WORRIED AGENT
 A passenger agent for a "Middle-Western" railroad demands a "raise" in pay because women worry him with foolish questions. But women are not the only ones who want to know when the eight-o'clock train leaves or where that umbrella is that was left in the station a year ago.

A PORTIC PRESIDENT
 A President Hainisch of Austria has written a poem, "My Country," and it has been set to music as a proposed national anthem. They say his rhymes are perfect and his rhythm of easy swing. He has brought in the name of Austria three times. If other European presidents follow his poetic example it will be all right until it comes to Czechoslovakia.

LOOKS SCALY
 A scaly codfish recently captured off our Atlantic Coast carried tags markings showing that he had been put out by the Norway fish commissioners. It is likely that Boston will be in arms at the suggestion that their sacred codfish may be carrying a Norse strain. What is the use of a tariff if the pauper codfish of the Old World can come right up to our shores and bite our bathers? It sounds fishy.

BILL'S MISTAKE
 It is found that the total earnings of Shakespeare during his full career as dramatist, poet, producer, and actor would amount to about $4000 in our money. Yet there are dumb-bells in Hollywood who think they are treated badly if they don't get that much in a week. Shakespeare was foolish in having himself born three centuries too soon. He might have earned real money writing picture captions.

NO HARM IN FLOWERS
 It is a time-honored practice to remove flowers from the sickroom at night, because of their supposed harmful effect upon the patient. But now that well-known medical authority, the London Lancet, says in effect that this notion is all applesauce, and that flowers do no injury to sleepers. After a while it will be discovered that the best thing a hay-fever patient can have in his room is a big bunch of golden rod.

THE LONG BEARD
 A North Dakota farmer who recently passed away had a beard seventeen feet long and it was undoubtedly the longest in America. He displayed his brush in a circus for several seasons and when it was not on exhibition the owner would wind it around his waist a few times. He hadn't worn a necktie since 1875 and in cold weather it did service as a scarf or overcoat. When a man has a seventeen-foot fringe on his face he becomes a celebrity.

VICARIOUS DUETING
 Forty duels were fought in Budapest in a recent week, as the result of students' quarrels. But the students did not risk their own lives. They resorted to the innovation of employing expert swordsmen to pit themselves against one another, with the result that little blood was spilled. But where did anybody's "satisfaction" come from? Would any of our old American fire-eaters have been willing to sit on the sidelines and watch a vicarious duel?

ENGLISH COLLEGE YELLS
 In the English universities that terrible American innovation—the college yell—so dismaying to conservative Britons, is said to be quite prevalent. When the Prince of Wales visited Exeter University recently he was greeted with this yell: "Delaher, spraglar, bishlar, ewars, por, por, por!" This epithet was given with much noise and enthusiasm. The Prince didn't mind it a bit, but the Manchester Guardian did, saying in its wrath that "the whole thing is incredibly childish," like "the incomprehensible publicity methods of the Middle West." But there'll probably be no muffling of the college yell in England now that it is making the welkin ring over there.

NAVAL PARITY
 A new and distinct triumph for President Coolidge is seen in Britain's belated acceptance of the idea of arms limitation, as shown in the cutting down of her cruiser-building program. At the Geneva conference it seemed impossible to assure the British delegates that anything like American and British naval parity was best for the peace of the world. Britain insisted on having an advantage in shipping and armament, and when the conference broke up in apparent failure she seemed bent on going ahead with her extensive and expensive program of construction.

Now the First Lord of the Admiralty states that it is not necessary to construct more than one new cruiser next year—a statement that will be hailed with delight by the already overburdened British taxpayer, and will be received in this country as an indication of the fact that the next armament conference, for which the administration is now planning, will result in the acceptance of the parity idea—the only fair and logical one in the circumstances.

What has brought about this change of front on the part of the British admiralty? It is directly due to the keen dissection and astute interpretation by Viscount Cecil of America's peaceful aims at Geneva. Cecil has convinced the noble lords that there was nothing ulterior in our demands for parity, and that to have allowed the negotiations to break up because of Britain's failure to see the justice of our position was perfect madness.

Lord Cecil resigned his position as member of the armament commission of the League of Nations because of the insistence of the other British delegates upon the parity principle. He has made it plain to the admiralty board as well as to all his countrymen that the conference would have been a success had Britain been willing to concede certain points which he held to be of minor importance compared with the concord and amity of the two leading nations of the world as to the means of peace preservation. In this view he was strongly backed by millions of Britishers, from whom the government soon heard in a very convincing way that it was time to reconsider its stupid course at Geneva.

One of Cecil's backers is Earl Balfour, who, at the conclusion of the Viscount's arraignment of the government in the House of Lords recently, said: "Nothing will make me believe that the two branches of the English-speaking race are incapable of understanding each other or coming to a common agreement." He said, too, that he regarded the Geneva conference as "interrupted, not ended." Doubtless Lord Cecil shares the latter view, and when the time comes will work for a plan of unity that will prove effective. In the matter of naval accord with America his is the strongest voice in England.

Work on the preparation of a naval armament treaty to be presented to the League of Nations will be the chief business of the disarmament commission at its meeting at Washington on the 30th inst. Soviet Russia will be represented at the conference, having departed from its previous attitude of refusal to participate in disarmament work.

All in all, there is a bright prospect for the reduction of armaments, particularly in view of Britain's conciliatory stand in the matter of cruiser building.

UNCLE SAM'S CREDIT
 The United States has no difficulty in borrowing money from its citizens. A few weeks ago Secretary Mellon examined Uncle Sam's accounts and decided that the sum of $400,000,000 in the form of a loan would be a convenient aid on the idea of November. He advertised the fact and set the rate for interest at 3 1/2 per cent, and the closing hour for loaning funds at November 15. The Secretary was forced to pull down the blind on the cashier's window as early as November 9, on which date he had received orders totaling $1,067,723,000.

The rush of customers did not turn the head of the seasoned government financier and he will not accept more funds than he originally solicited in exchange for notes maturing next June 15. Treasury notes maturing December 15, however, may possibly bring about advertisement for another loan of about $150,000,000, but John Henry Taxpayer is due to make his final quarterly income tax payment on that date and the influx of cash may preclude the possibility of a loan for refinancing the treasury notes.

Another item affecting government loans is $752,502,400 in Liberty Bonds called for redemption. Interest payments on these bonds ceased as of November 15, but the bonds are arriving for redemption very slowly. If redemptions speed up to such a measure as to pass the capacity of available cash on hand, further securities may be offered to cover the requirements. Judging from the history of previous government bond redemptions, however, the bulk of the $752,502,400 in bonds will not be presented in less than a year and a few millions will remain outstanding for months or years thereafter.

WHAT'S THE DATE?
 In the days of the French Revolution, an attempt was made to make ten days the length of a week. Now it is reported that for cold business reasons a bill will be introduced into the coming session of Congress to make a new division of the days of the year into months. Europe has felt the same urge. An American, George Eastman, comes forward with a proposition said to meet with considerable favor among business men, which is to be the basis of the proposed bill. He would divide the year into thirteen months of twenty-eight days each. The three hundred and sixty-fifth day would be inserted between the last day of December and the first of January. It would not be counted as a day of either month, simply New Year's Day.

The extra month would be inserted between May and June. The leap year day would be inserted between June and July. Some of the advantages claimed would be that a month would always begin on Sunday, that a week would always be a quarter of a month, and that the great holidays of the year would always fall on the same day each week of the month. It is said, with considerable reason, that this arrangement would benefit business and systematize human relations so far as they depend on the calendar.

ITALY PICTURED IN DARK MOOD

Dr. Tannunzio Speaks to Women's City Club

Fascism Condemned as Religion of Sword

People of Nation Declared Losing Confidence

A picture of Italy as it is today, dark and gloomy with unhappiness, was presented yesterday to the Women's City Club, which met at 1 o'clock in the Morocco Theater, in an impassioned speech against Fascism by Dr. Constantino Tannunzio, a member of the Whittier department of sociology, and noted as a scholar, teacher, traveler and author of two books, "The Soul of an Immigrant" and "Immigration at the Crossroads." The picture he painted was one of black shirts and caps, shining daggers, militarism and discontent.

"Italy today is in a sorry state," he said. "When we speak of modern Italy we must recall that it is only a little more than fifty years of age since it was born as a modern nation, in 1870. At that time four major problems were left unsolved. The first concerned the four lost provinces, which were left in the hands of the Austrians. Another is the ancient one of church versus state, while a third centers around the form of government. Italy is a monarchy because the house of Savoy, favoring that form, led the way, but there are many who demand a better distribution of land, most of it at present being in the hands of 8 per cent of the population."

Health alone is more than enough to bring forth sincere thankfulness this Thanksgiving time.

Riches and worldly possessions mean nothing when one is in poor health. Those who once enjoyed good health and have since lost it, would give their all to regain what they probably did not appreciate fully.

BE THANKFUL FOR HEALTH

Health alone is more than enough to bring forth sincere thankfulness this Thanksgiving time.

Riches and worldly possessions mean nothing when one is in poor health. Those who once enjoyed good health and have since lost it, would give their all to regain what they probably did not appreciate fully.

So give thanks for good health and guard it closely. Keep fit and happy always.

Dealer Survey Conducted by Chamber

California Fourth in Sets Held in Stock

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

The Department of Commerce, through its electrical equipment division, now makes public the results of a survey which has been conducted the past year among radio dealers of the country.

Among those who returned the questionnaires were four undertakers, now making public the results of a survey which has been conducted the past year among radio dealers of the country.

One orthodox radio dealer wrote to the government bureau declaring that there ought to be a law prohibiting the sale of radios by filling stations.

By far the greatest percentage of replies came from electrical supply stores while exclusively radio stores and hardware stores tied for second place.

This was the first survey of its kind ever attempted by the Department of Commerce and one result of the census shows that the stores reporting the largest stocks are near the big broadcast centers of the country.

CALIFORNIA FOURTH

In the classification of the survey by states the list is headed by 797 New York dealers who report 28,111 battery-operated and 1547 socket-operated sets on hand while California takes fourth place with 422 dealers, 9453 battery-operated and 555 socket-operated sets.

The country-wide stock survey showed on hand 183,091 ordinary loud speakers and 5018 amplifiers on the shelves of 7718 jobbers and dealers. The battery-operated sets total 147,548 battery-operated sets and 5549 socket-operated sets in stock.

Only 28 per cent of those queried replied to the radio census survey.

Mishap Fails

to Halt Suit

Although he was found unconscious

from chemical fumes early yesterday morning on the floor of his laboratory at the Bartlett Nu Products

Company, G. Maurice Bartlett, head of the company, who was hurried

through the roof several years ago by an explosion in the place, was able to appear in Superior Judge Beecher's court yesterday as defendant in an action brought by E. E. Kinas

for $1557.51, asserted due in payment for 283,000 bottles.

Kinas took an assignment of the claim from the concern which manufactured the bottles, but Bartlett is reclaiming the suit on the ground that the containers are not up to the measurements specified. Though weak from the accident in his laboratory, Bartlett, who was escorted to court by employees, was able to follow the case, most of the time with his eyes closed and his head in his arms.

The suit was adjourned until 10:30 o'clock this morning.

Cooking Cooked

Husband's Goose

William G. Clayson was possessed of an intolerable belief in his own superiority, Mrs. Margaret Clayson

complained yesterday to Judge

Schauer, in Superior Court.

"He even thought he could cook

supremely," she said. "Once he threw me out of my own kitchen and prepared a meal for our guests."

"How did he get along?" Judge

Schauer wanted to know.

"That I could not say, because I ate none of the food. But none of the guests came back," Mrs. Clayson replied.

She was granted a divorce.

Remember!

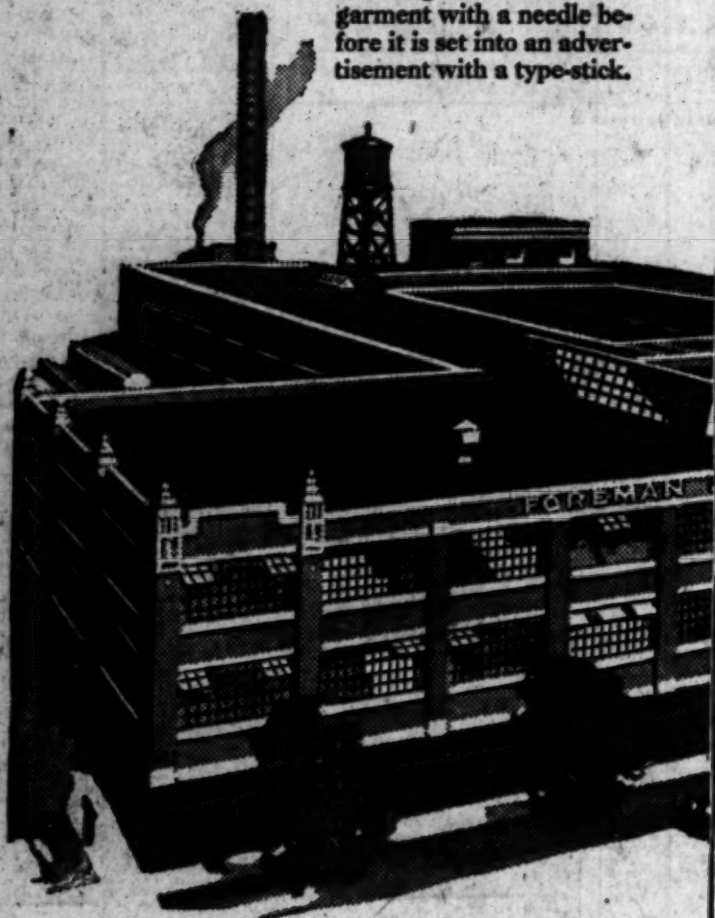

Water no higher than its source... Value no higher than its resources! Ask: What resources are behind the claims made for F&C clothing values?

"Resources"

—on paper or in fact?

Foreman & Clark factories are real factories, producing real clothes, not "printer's ink factories" producing advertising slogans.

Foreman & Clark hand-tailoring is real hand-tailoring sewed into the garment with a needle before it is set into an advertisement with a type-stick.

Foreman & Clark factory No. 4 at Waterlot N.Y. One of five plants which, combined, are one of our few famous "resources."

Size Up These 5 Common-sense Reasons:

1. Coast-to-Coast up-stairs stores.
2. $765,438 saved yearly in rent.
3. $10,000,000 written Guarantee.
4. Our own 5 big east-coast factories.
5. Cash business—no credit losses.

Foreman & Clark Resources

for building, distributing and selling America's Greatest Suit of Clothes at America's Lowest Prices

Our own distinguished New York Designing Staff.

Production Resources

4,200 Tailors.

2,500,000 cubic feet of Tailoring Space in 5 daylight F & C Plants.

Steady 52 weeks factory production.

14 great woolen mills supply us fine fabrics below market prices on 12 months' contracts.

Tremendous buying power in domestic and foreign textile markets.

Production capacity 14,000 garments weekly.

Retail Resources

Coast-to-Coast Upstairs Stores, saving $765,438 yearly in rent.

$10,000,000 volume.

6 weeks' turn over.

Daily NEW Styles.

Twice as many new models.

Personalized fitting service and specialized stocks of unusual models for hard-to-fit men.

Strongest guarantee in the clothing business.

Broadest Service-after-Purchase in retaildom.

ON THE broad-loading platforms of at least one Foreman & Clark factory every day—these remarkable clothes start their swift trip to our big Upstairs stores from coast-to-coast. This is the only daily style service that we know of in the clothing industry, bringing you New York's last word in new fashions less than 3 weeks (not 3 months) after their designing and production!

Rest on those Resources? No Sir!

Nothing languid about F&C Retail Service

We know that we produce and sell a finer suit of clothes at $25, $30 or $35 than the clothing industry offers anywhere else. But we aren't satisfied with that. Retail service is in our blood. We began by fitting men better and serving them more, than any retailer. We still do. We rest on no factory oars. We press, sponge and minor-repair your purchase throughout its life. We start where ordinary retailing stops.

We say it in blue-and-white

—with our famous double Written Guarantee!

There's no guarantee like it (though they've made many of them look as alike as possible). We sign it as makers AND retailers, both. It leaves everything up to you. YOU must be satisfied. It guarantees fit, guarantees wear, guarantees style, guarantees fabrics, guarantees linings, thread and trimmings. And why not? We KNOW the quality is there because our own 4200 tailors put it there!

You wouldn't buy a dollar of insurance

without knowing the resources of the insurance firm behind it!

WE urge the same interest when you buy clothes. Foreman & Clark resources were built by the public, and 500,000 men command them. We list a few in the center of this page, dedicated to the one successful job of giving men fine clothes at the prices of cheap clothes. This business is an open book.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—In rapid order, the House of Representatives today passed a bill for the reduction of the income tax rates of 1928.
